Van Eyck year

King Leopold I unveiled the statue of Jan and Hubert van Eyck, 150 years ago, on 5 September 1864. We had so much pleasure celebrating this anniversary last year that the people of Maaseik decided to keep going until mid 2015. You're going to love it!

See www.vaneyckmaaseik.be or www.maaseik.be for more details about this year of festivities.

The apothecary

THE OLDEST PRIVATE PHARMACY IN BELGIUM RESTORED TO ITS FORMER GLORY

Six generations of pharmacists sold pills, salves and medicines at this location between 1704 and 1959. The wealth of herbs in the drawers spreads a wonderfully pleasant aroma. Thomas Botti welcomes you to his colourful 18th century pharmacy. He was the first pharmacist to keep his poisons behind lock and key. For instance, the Belladonna powder, which was popular among young women looking for a man. Curious about more secrets of this pharmacy?

SYMBOL OF THE SERPENT

The serpent, the symbol of medicine, is found in various places in our pharmacy. It refers to the Greek god of healing, Asclepius.

HERB GARDEN

The herb garden behind the apothecary is certainly worth a visit. Lots of pollen from plants cultivated in the old herb garden was found in an archaeological dig in 1985. The finds enabled the reconstruction of the original herb garden, which was planted with the various medicinal herbs, kitchen herbs and herbs that can be used in the drugstore.

THE WITCH OF ALDENEIK

You can still admire the 'sticking stone' in Aldeneik's Saint Anna Church, which is a reminder of the tragic story of a sexton's wife in the 16th century who ended up being burned at the stake as a witch in a trial by ordeal.

Ecclesiastical treasures

As the cultural pearl of the Maasland, Maaseik is home to one of the grandest works of art of the Early Middle Ages. Codex Eyckensis is the oldest illuminated book of the gospels in the Low Countries. A brilliant hand-made 8th-century book from the scriptorium of the Abbey of Echternach.

The church treasure also includes magnificent Early Middle Age Anglo-Saxon textiles - the oldest surviving examples of their kind. Carefully sewn with gold thread and pearls by dainty women's hands, these textiles once glittered. Let legends and tales, relics and silverwork take you on a journey of discovery through the glory of ecclesiastical life in the Middle Ages.

The Regional Archaeological Museum sets your imagination loose. When you walk through the magnificent 17th century doorframe you begin a journey through time. Archaeology takes over. It's a chance to immerse yourself in the often-surprising history of the people of Maasland and Maaseik. Did they know the same fauna and flora as we do now? How did they dress, what did they eat, what tools did they use? You'll find an answer to all these questions.

WHAT IS ARCHAEOLOGY?

Do you immediately think of Indiana Jones? A search in the wilderness for twinkling treasure? Well, there's much more to archaeology than digging for buried riches!

DARK AGES?

Forget it! The Maasland did not experience any dark ages. The Merovingian and Carolingian dynasties were beacons of knowledge, craft and art. You will be astounded by the gorgeous work of their gold- and silversmiths.

The things archaeologists dig up sometimes generate more questions than answers. In the museum, people work in the ancient ways to understand how and why certain things were made. You too can try your hand in the Musea Maaseik Discovery Room.

Mota Campania

Maasland has a richer history than you might think, stretching way back into ancient times. Not long ago, unique archaeological finds spanning a vast period from 3500 BC to 800 AD were unearthed during work on the Mottekamp site in Maasmechelen. The scale, the perfect condition of some objects and the unique character of these finds are astonishing.

This fascinating collection is presented to the general public for the first time at Cultural Centre Maasmechelen in close association with Musea Maaseik in the 'Mota Campania' exhibition. Travel through 75,000 years of the history of one of the most mysterious places in the Maasland. The area studied is next to the Via Mosae and among other things served as a halting place for the many Roman soldiers and travellers who passed through.

It is known that, in the third century, Via Mosae, the Maas/Meuse Road, was part of the huge Roman road network that at its zenith covered some 85,000 kilometres! It was a busy main road that ran from Nijmegen to Tongeren, crossing the Maasland.

Although Via Mosae has been buried for centuries, in the past it was the motor of impressive economic activity and an exciting environment to live in. That has been proven by the thousands of finds from dozens of archaeological sites in the area. It seems that the Maasland has always been an economic hub!

The 'Mota Campania' exhibition challenges you to follow in the footsteps of the passionate archaeologists to study and actively experience this remote past. You will discover the fascinating world of 'Mota Campania'. The exhibition is the result of a unique partnership between Musea Maaseik and Cultural Centre Maasmechelen. The archaeological finds were discovered in Maasmechelen and classified scientifically by Musea Maaseik. CC Maasmechelen presents the finds to the general public for the first time. After the exhibition they will be added to the permanent collection of the Regional Archaeological Museum in Maaseik.

'MOTA CAMPANIA' IS A UNIQUE JOURNEY OF DISCOVERY FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY.

You can visit this exhibition on your own or take a guided tour. There are plenty of stimulating tools for adults and children to work with.

Individual visits are free

ALL WORKS OF THE RENOWNED BROTHERS IN ONE ROOM!

Groups are welcome to the van Eyck Exhibition. Maaseik has always been well disposed to its world-class sons. A statute of the brothers was erected on 'Belgium's most beautiful market' way back in 1864.

VAN EYCK EXHIBITION

Besides actual-size slides and photos of all paintings, Aelman's copy and the reinterpretation by Jan Peeters, there are also lots of interesting details on the origin, craft and works of these Flemish masters. # John Selbachmuseum

The John Selbach Museum comprises two departments.

THE MUSEUM

The John Selbach Museum is housed in the former Ursuline convent on Boomgaardstraat in the centre of Maaseik. The first department accommodates the extensive collection of paintings from the 16th through to the 19th century. They include interiors, townscapes, still lifes, landscapes, seascapes, depictions of animals and portraits. As such, in many ways visitors make a cultural journey through time as they proceed through the museum. The period rooms from the Renaissance to Biedermeier only enhance the feeling that you are travelling through the ages.

DOLL AND TOY MUSEUM

Besides this impressive collection of paintings and furnishings, the former convent is also home to hostess Corinne's Doll Museum. For ten years the Doll Museum was located in Maastricht. There are wooden dolls, but also dolls made from papier mâché, wax, fabric and biscuit porcelain. Just like the paintings, the dolls are exhibited in specially designed period rooms from the 17th and 18th century, kitchens and drawing rooms. The dolls are accompanied by such miniature accessories as furniture, crockery, toys made of tin, teddy bears, trains and other knick-knacks.

Discover the water mills

Water mills rule along Bosbeek and Oeterbeek. Twelve of the sixteen original mills are still in good or very good working order, making this creek one of the most productive in the province. Whether they were used to grind grain into flour or to saw wood, the mills are testament to an illustrious past that will appeal to young and old alike.

NEER MILL

The oldest Bosbeek mill sits in the shadow of St Lambertus church. This grain mill was first put into operation as early as 1330. The timber and loam structure made way for the existing building in 1859. The miller is eager to tell you - and show you - how the grain is ground into flour.

WURFELDER MILL

This well preserved water mill was milling local grain as early as 1560 and remained in operation until 1863. It was also a paper mill for a time, which can be seen from the ventilation hatches. They were most likely used to dry the newly produced paper. The wooden cogs used until the end of the fifties remain today. The mill is still in private hands, but considering its good condition it certainly warrants a visit.

KLAASKENS MILL

Built in 1548, this oilseed mill is still a very interesting visit. Extended in 1916 to become the only saw mill powered by water in Flanders, the mill has now been restored to its original conditions. Take the guided tour to see planks sawed in the traditional way.

Hiking

Walkers and ramblers will certainly find plenty to take their fancy in Maaseik. There are both interesting town walks and treks through unspoiled nature. Even extending over several days. Next to its beautiful and quiet cycling routes, the Regional Landscape Kempen and Maasland also has a host of walking paths in the Kempen-Broek Border Park, in the Maas Valley River Park and in the Hoge Kempen national park. So put on your walking boots, make your way to Maaseik and choose your route.

HOGHE KEMPEN NATIONAL PARK

This 5700ha nature reserve extends across the municipalities Dilsen-Stokkem, Maasmechelen, Zutendaal, Lanaken, Genk and As. You can enter the National Park at six different points. Each has a visitor's reception from where you can explore the area. To make it even more interesting you can explore with a ranger. Cyclists and horse riders are also welcome. For more information, visit www.nationaalpark.be.

New:

In June 2015 you can try out the revamped Bergerven rambling area in Neeroeteren. These revised routes will form the 'Bergerven' rambling network and will be added to the rambling opportunities offered in the Hoge Kempen National Park.

GRENSPARK KEMPEN-BROEK

GrensPark Kempen-Broek covers more than 25,000ha, taking in the Belgian municipalities of Bree, Bocholt, Maaseik and Kinrooi, and the Dutch municipalities of Cranendonck, Nederweert and Weert. The park is made up of a series of areas of natural beauty, featuring bogs, woodland and ponds. Wurfeld is home to Tösch-Langeren (2 euros), a section of the park that has been left to develop naturally. While Bosbeek boasts the picturesque landscape of Langeren, with its historical wooden banks and embankments. For the full selection of walks, visit www.kempenbroek.eu. Also available: GrensPark Kempen-Broek long-distance walking trails.

RIVIERPARK MAASVALLEI

The Maas riverbed between Smeermaas and Kessenich forms an exceptional landscape that extends over approximately 4000ha. There are walking maps for Aldeneik & Maaseik, Oud-Rekem, Stokkem & Oud-Dilsen, Leut & Meeswijk and Drie Eigen (Kessenich, Thorn and Neeritter). The rugged rain-fed river produces a varied landscape, including a tangle of old creeks, riverbanks, fairways and gravel banks. A trickle of typical Maas villages completes the scene. With the Aldeneik & Maaseik nature walking map (2,50 euros) you can stroll along the water at Heerenlaakplas, which was created by gravel mining. The centuries-old grazing land of Heppeneert, on the other hand, is the best preserved of the forelands along the Maas. If you would like to study the legends and histories of the area you can follow the Aldeneik & Maaseik culture walking trail (3 euros). For more information, visit: www.rivierparkmaasvallei.eu.

DUINENGORDEL

The three areas of the Duinengordel are located a few kilometres from the National Park but they show you the typical landscapes of the Hoge Kempen. Donderslag passes a couple of gorgeous natural pools, such as Turfven and Ruiterskuilen, Solterheide takes you into the heart of the woodland, whereas De Oudsberg is the biggest inland dune in Flanders. These walking maps are available individually, or collectively as part of the Hoge Kempen National Park walks pack.

MAASEIK-ALDENEIK CULTURAL WALK

If you wish to find out more about the legends and the historic background of the area, then you can choose from two interesting walks in the walking brochure: one is in picturesque Aldeneik and the other in cultural Maaseik (3 euros). In November 2009, the 'Aldeneik & Maaseik, a current of culture' walking area was opened. Five qualitative looped walks will take you through the quiet village of Heppeneert, the historic centres of Maaseik and Aldeneik, and past the gravel pond of Heerenlaak. Your guides are the well-known walking posts of the region. Start out from the church in Aldeneik or at the entrance of the Heerenlaak region. On the back of the map (2,50 euros), you will find numerous fun facts about the region.

Cycling

If you're wondering if there are still places in Flanders that have not succumbed to the dictatorship of cars, you should get along to the Kempen and Maasland regional park, which includes the best of what twelve municipalities of northeast Limburg have to offer, all accessible by signposted cycle paths. Maaseik is a great starting point, offering a number of routes. So what are you waiting for? Hope to see you soon!

Fietsparadijs Limburg celebrates its 20th anniversary in 2015. The scenic cycling network is Limburg's crowning glory!

Horse riding

Limburg is the dream destination for horse and rider. The horse rider and driver network takes you on a tour of heathland, woodland, lakes and inland dunes. And through Hoge Kempen National Park (5700ha of pure nature!). Flanders' horse-friendliest network is 600km long, with well-maintained, mostly unpaved, paths with signage in both directions. Along the way, there are plenty of places to eat and drink that welcome horses. And places to stay that will guarantee you and your horse a good night's rest. Two special horse rider and driver network maps are also available from Tourism Maaseik. Get inspired at www.paardenprovincie.be.

500KM OF DEDICATED CYCLE PATHS!

You'd have to look hard to find a 1000km network of cycle paths, 50% of which is off limits to cars, anywhere else. Get yourself a cycling map from Tourism Maaseik and follow one of the clearly numbered trails, each of which are interconnected by a series of junctions, so you can change direction on a whim. Head for the water mills, taking the Zuid-Willemsvaart hunting path and following the Maas to the Spaanjerd. Or if you're looking for more excitement, take the smuggler's route across the border to the Netherlands.

PLAIN SAILING FOR WATER LOVERS!

THE CANNES OF LIMBURG

We also have that Mediterranean ambience. Since 1980 d.v. Maaslandse Recreatiecentra, or Marec for short, has operated the two biggest inland marinas in Europe. 'De Spaanjerd' in Ophoven-Kinrooi has room for 990 yachts. 'Heerenlaak' in Aldeneik- Maaseik is home to around 430 smaller but faster boats. Both marinas are equipped with jetties that rise and fall with the height of the river. Marina visitors are certainly pampered. 'Heerenlaak' has two fully equipped camping sites. The Sporta water sports centre offers many different kinds of waterbound fun.

Tip:

Maasplassen Day Heerenlaak-Aldeneik on Sunday 28/06/2015

ROUND TRIP TO THORN OR STEVENSWEERT

De Paep van Meinecom III takes you on a special trip on Marec lakes. It can seat 120 persons and is covered. During July and August, on Wednesdays, Saturdays, Sundays and on holidays, "De Paep" sails to Thorn and Stevensweert at fixed times. An excellent idea for a day trip.

Original party on the water

Add an extra dimension to your family party or company outing, on board De Paep van Meinecom III. This cruiser can take groups of 25 to 120 people for trips to the old settlement Stevensweert, the white town of Thorn or Maasbracht. There is plenty to keep you amused on the way! Lunch, press conference, office party, reception, cocktails... the gangway is down, the horn sounds. Welcome on board!

SPORTA BEACHCLUB

Beachclub Maaseik holiday centre can accommodate up to 78 guests. There are 15 rooms for four to six persons with separate shower and toilet, including two rooms for those with special access needs. There are also two separate shower rooms, a fully equipped kitchen and a separate dining and relaxation room.

Sporta Beachclub is also a great place to experience a fun day of sports or relaxation. Sporta has a wide range of sports packages for groups, companies and schools. The magnificent private sandy beach is an ideal place to relax in or by the water. If you'd rather get active, there are plenty of courses for beginners and advanced learners alike, in windsurfing, optimist sailing, kayaking, canoeing, beach volleyball, BMX, archery or teambuilding activities.

Activities are open to holiday centre guests and nonguests alike. Sporta provides all equipment and special clothing (life vests and wetsuits). Trained, experienced supervision is also provided. Sporta arranges a host of sports contests and courses for all-comers in July and August (Mondays to Fridays). Visit www.sporta.be and find out exactly what you can do!

HEERENLAAK

Heerenlaak is an important centre for water sports. The gravel lakes attract swimmers, surfers, water-skiers and pleasure crafts. The large fishpond forms a peaceful transition between the recreation pool and the adjacent residential areas. Other recreational assets are the landscaped sandy beach with play and sun terraces and the unique bastion providing a panoramic view of the surrounding environment. Good access is guaranteed by wide roads, separate cycle paths and an extensive network of walking paths.

Ballooning

HOP ON BOARD FOR A FANTASTIC AIRBORNE VOYAGE.

Taking a trip in a hot-air balloon is always an adventure. The voyage into the unknown, the tension because you never know how long you will be in the air and where the wind will take you. The sense of relaxation as you overcome any fear of heights. Everyone nurtures a desire to feel free like a bird, high up above everyone and everything and escape earth for just a short while. You can assist in the preparations and soon after you will be floating over the Maasland region. After a soft landing, a fun surprise awaits you.

BEAR IN MIND:

Ballooning is highly dependent on the weather conditions. Only the pilot can decide whether you will lift off or not on the day itself. This is important for your security. There is even a chance that the flight may be cancelled on the day itself or that you may take off from somewhere else (even outside of Maaseik).

Departure: field behind the ice-skating hall of Maaseik and next to the Mosque (Sportlaan).
Price: 160 euros/adult and 80 euros for children - 10 years.
